Hello, I'm Peter and I'm a middle school student. Recently I did a survey about "what music middle school students like" in our class. Here is the result.

Twenty of my classmates like classical music because they think it can make them relax. Sixteen of my classmates like rock music, for they think it is exciting. Fourteen of my classmates like hip pop music because it makes them want to dance. Ten of my classmates like light music because it can help them fall asleep and have good dreams.

It seems that different people like different kinds of music. Maybe that's why there are so many kinds of music in our life.
